SUMMARY

I'm a senior finance student with a strong foundation in financial analysis and risk management. I have advanced expertise in financial modeling and analyzing financial data, enabling me to provide valuable insights that align with business objectives. Through my academic projects, I have gained a deep understanding of valuation techniques and investment analysis. I seek to join a professional setting where I could employ my academic knowledge in practice effectively, adding value to the team and continuing the development of personal and professional skills in the field of finance, while upholding integrity and transparency in all aspects of work.
